

Advantage: House

On a scale of 1-10, where one represented the easiest Easter egg hunt and ten was the hardest, the Pringler City Egg Hunt rated a nine. Sure, the eggs were reasonably easy to locate, however the ravenous leopards that Bob, the Pringler City Wild Animal Wrangler, sicced on the contestants as they attempted to turn them in invariably gave the advantage to the house.