

The Brisman

Sean McGillicuddy was not your typical mohel¹ – he was Jewish in name only, and the sole training he received for the brisses² he performed came from that one summer he tended the grill for his sister’s backyard barbecues.

1. A Jewish person trained in the practice of brit milah (bris).
2. A Jewish religious circumcision ceremony performed on an 8-day old male.