

Catch It If You Can!

“Quick, throw me another one!” shouted Jeff. He had already caught and stacked twelve TVs as the “Catch It If You Can!” audience hollered words of encouragement. Fourteen TVs was the record, and Jeff was sure he could break it and win the grand prize. But then some miserable little crumbsnatcher in the front row called out in a squeaky little voice, “Hey Mister, your fly’s down!” Briefly distracted, Jeff glanced down to make sure his zipper was where it belonged, and that was when Bruno, the show’s pitcher, lobbed the 26" Philco A-T2272 double-door console. The audience sighed a collective “awww” as they didn’t get to see the record broken. On the other hand, most of Jeff was.
