

Crabby Old Lady

Griselda Finstermacker taught remedial third grade entomology and thought she was good at her job. She treated her students with respect and expected the same in return. So she was shocked and offended when she overheard several of her young charges refer to her as “that crabby old lady.” Then one day, Griselda caught a glimpse of herself in the mirror....