

The Distraction

Tryouts for the Syracuse Sylphs were among the most rigorous in the entire Synchronized Swim Team League of Sicily. To test each candidate's aptitude for concentration – key to the success of any routine – the panel of judges would typically add a “distraction” to the audition.