

The Elk Tamer

World renowned lion tamer Gwendolyn Dinklakler got her start taming elks—that is, members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. “Benevolent” its members may typically be, but on the day that Gwendolyn petitioned to join the club, they were malevolent. Unluckily for them, however, they hadn’t reckoned on Gwendolyn’s resourcefulness with a chair, a talent that would later stand her in good stead as she learned to control those other beasts that inhabited the wild animal entertainment kingdom.
