

Funa-zushi

When Leonard told his friends that he was taking Eunice to Dinklaker's Sushi Bar over in Bingtown, they all advised him not to order funa-zushi, the house special. But he did anyway, and learned the hard way that it doesn't pay to be overly adventurous in strange restaurants. The entrée's surprisingly aggressive nature coupled with Eunice's pathological squeamishness combined to make Leonard's meal one that he would long remember.
