

Lemon Queen

Enid was so elated to have been crowned Lemon Queen of the Bung Hollow County Fair that she never stopped to wonder why she was the lone contestant. She began to figure it out, however, after her thirty-third straight mandatory helping of lemons from the Fair's Citrus Pavilion, over which she reigned with her arranged throne-mate, that wretched Bruno the Bunny (which is another, ahem, story).