Peepzilla

Movie studios are forever trying to cash in on successful films. Sometimes they'll even hire a writer to pen a sequel at the first sign of a positive review. Alas, the offspring does not always meet the same high standards of its antecedent. Case in point, "Peepzilla." Written, cast, and filmed within a month of the 1954 premiere of Godzilla (a.k.a. King of the Monsters), Peepzilla ... oh, but the less said about this cinematic turkey*, the better.

* or duck, really.