

When worms fell from the sky

When worms fell from the sky for the second time on October 5, 1989, Jack, Jill, and Jerome all rushed outside, worm catchers in hand and mouths open wide, to make sure they caught their fill this time.