Taxi-dermy

- 8:05. Angelo the Elephant cunningly eludes bed check and escapes from Larry's Animal Kingdom.
- 8:30. Angelo swims across the Dinkbatt River, walks a kilometer to Highway B4, stands on the berm, and sticks out his trunk.
- 8:31. Eager for the potential fare, Panjib Floss cuts off two other taxi drivers and careens to a stop in front of Angelo.
- 8:32. Angelo climbs onto the back seat, gravely compromising the vehicle's suspension.
- 8:33. A clearly annoyed Panjib dispatches Angelo with a pair of darning needles (or, in this case, damning needles). Immediately, he regrets his action.
- 8:35. Calling on long-dormant talents, Panjib carefully eviscerates the pachyderm in the back of the car, then reassembles him, replacing the entrails with kapok from the seat cushions.
- 9:30. Panjib mounts a lifelike Angelo on the roof of his cab, triggering ...
- 9:35-10:20. a noticeable increase in the number of fares.
- 10:45-38:25. The "Taxi-dermy" craze sweeps across the country, accounting for a sharp decline in the number of hitchhiking elephants.
