

Valet Parking

Whenever Brad landed his Piper Cub at a new airport, he always paid a little extra to have his aircraft valet-parked. But that “little extra” didn’t extend as far as tipping the taxiway pilot, a slight he usually got away with. Not so at Bung Hole Regional Airport near Hattiesburg, where valet parker Parthapratim Pringler clearly showed his annoyance.